Systems Update: Randburg and Commando supply action plan

Following engagements between Johannesburg Water and Rand Water technical teams, an action plan to resolve the water issues has been decided upon.

Johannesburg Water and Rand Water will implement its own internal configurations on their systems. This will allow the struggling systems – Randburg and Commando (which comprises the Brixton, Crosby, and Hursthill systems) – to build capacity overnight.

Some residents, however, have slowly started receiving water, although with poor pressure. They include:

- Parts of Blairgowrie
- Parts of Darrenwood
- Robindale (dropped pressure)
- Parts of Ferndale

Johannesburg Water continues to provide alternative water supply for the affected areas in Randburg and Commando.

Updates will be provided to customers.
