

Daily water supply system status updates: Wednesday, 14 June 2023 (Afternoon)

Water supply status update by exception (i.e., areas affected due to supply constraint and not service interruption from occasional pipe burst).

Unplanned interruptions

1. Monitoring of South Hills tower

Investigations are underway to establish the cause of reduced water supply at the South Hills tower. Further updates will be provided to customers.

2. Johannesburg Water systems showing improvement

As Rand Water systems recover, specific Johannesburg Water infrastructure have noted improved flows, impacting positively on capacity. The entity continues to closely monitor systems.

Below are the updates on reservoir and tower levels:

- Alexander Park reservoir: operating normally.
- Yeoville reservoir complex: reservoirs that were impacted yesterday are gaining capacity. The reservoir complex is operating normally.
- Crown Gardens: reservoir level is low but stable. Tower is operating normally. We have opened the outlet at 70%.
- South Hills tower: recovered. Pumps are running.
- Brixton reservoir and tower: reservoir outlet opened at 100%. Tower is operating normally. Monitoring reservoir levels.
- Hursthill 1 and 2: critically low to empty.

3. Major pipe burst on Fiona Street, Ridgeway, isolation of Crown Gardens reservoir

Repairs on the pipe burst have been completed. The team is monitoring the work sites. A minor leak was noted on a valve in Fiona Street. The technical team will assess the severity of the issue.

4. Cosmos Reservoir
